At sundown to-night the 1916 trout fishing season will have ended and the funny members will have the streams to themselves for a time. A number of local anglers made the most of the last opportunity for fishing this year and brooks in towns near Barre were whipped to-day. The law that keeps the little brook trout from the clutches of the angler after to-day also applies to lake trout and salmon trout, although fishing for other varieties of game trout may be continued legally. This year the open season on rabbits, squirrels and part-ridges begins Sept. 15.

Barre and Granite City hose companies in a practice run last night shattered the record for the Ayers street course by making the 300 yards and coupling in 43 1/2 seconds, against the previous record of 44 seconds. Two stop watches recorded the time and the timepieces did not vary a fraction of a second. Under competent coaching the men are rapidly rounding into form. All are in fine fettle and if this condition is maintained until Monday, competing teams at the state firemen's tournament in Rutland will have to travel some to wrest the championship away from the Barre boys. Accommodations for transporting the two teams to Rutland will be provided by local autoists, who have generously donated the use of their cars for Labor day. Alderman A. E. Bruce is assisting in the transportation arrangements. Twenty-four men are to make the trip, the companies leaving Barre for Rutland by the mountain route early Monday morning.

Mrs. Twickenbury remarked of a neighbor who was succeeding as an author, "She is getting very profigate with her pen."—Christian Register.

BERLIN

Double Wedding Held at the Congregational Church.

A pretty double wedding was held at the Congregational church yesterday at noon when Miss Violet Hernandez, daughter of Melquiades Hernandez of Waltham, Mass., became the bride of Robert C. Crandall of Philadelphia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crandall of Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Crandall, also of Philadelphia and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crandall of this place, was united in marriage to Hugh W. Close, son of R. G. Close of Philadelphia. The double ring service was used, and Rev. Frank Blomfield, pastor of the local church, was the officiating clergyman.

Each of the brides wore white net and taffeta trimmed with orange blossoms, and each carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The maids of honor were Miss Allene A. Madden of Ridgefield, N. J., and Miss Dorothy Jackson of Waltham, Mass., while Miss Mae Andrew of Ridgefield, N. J., was the flower girl. The ushers were Bert C. Winslow and Edward B. Crandall, both of Berlin, and George C. Currier of Arlington Heights, Mass. The wedding marches were played by Miss Christine Currier and Miss Marjorie Wells of Cabot.

After the weddings the couples and the guests went to the Crandall home, where a reception was held, a luncheon being served. The two couples will reside in West Philadelphia, being at home after Nov. 1. Mrs. Robert C. Crandall is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and has been organist of the Clanning church in Newton, Mass.

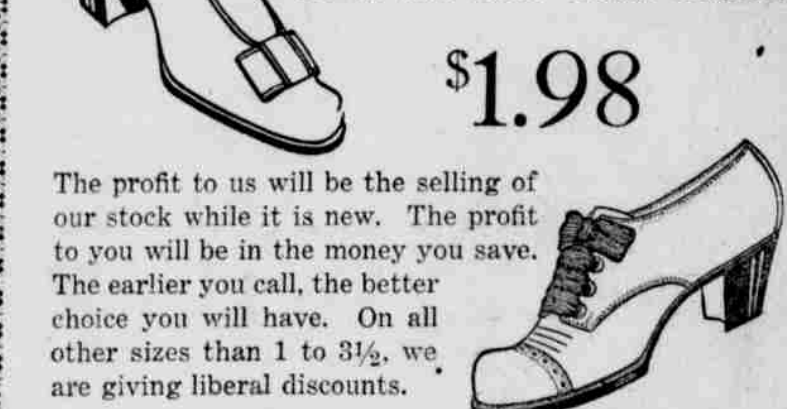

Mr. Crandall, a graduate of Montpelier seminary and the Pierce school of Philadelphia, is employed by the F. A. Davis Co. of Philadelphia, real estate dealers. Mrs. Close is a Berlin girl, was a graduate of the Philadelphia high school for girls, and her husband is a graduate of the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1912, since which time he has been practicing in West Philadelphia.

Barre Town Notice. The board of civil authority of the town of Barre will meet to revise the checklist for the September primaries as follows: At the town clerk's office Saturday, Sept. 2, at 7 o'clock p. m., and at East Barre opera house Saturday, Sept. 9, at 7 o'clock p. m. All voters should see that their names appear on said list on or before the last mentioned date.

W. H. Miles, Clerk of the Board. New fall percales 11c yard at the Vaughan Store.

From the Complement of the U. S. Cruiser Memphis.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—Reports to the navy department last night said 33 enlisted men were missing, most of them probably drowned, four were known to be dead, two officers and six men seriously injured, and 67 others hurt, as a result of the wrecking of the armored cruiser Memphis by a hurricane Tuesday in San Domingo City harbor.

Most of the missing were in a small boat overturned by wind and waves while returning to the Memphis. It is believed by the navy department perhaps a dozen of these may yet be alive on shore.

The known dead are:
J. H. TOWNSEND, fireman (address not given).
GEORGE W. RUDD, North Minneapolis.
A. H. PORTER, water tender (address not given).
W. COPIUS, coal passer, Hempstead, L. I.

The cause of the wreck has not yet been explained fully in messages from Rear-Admiral Pond, in command at San Domingo, and an investigation will be started by navy officers soon.

A message from Admiral Pond last night said:
"Sea smooth. Memphis solidly ashore, on board securing records and landing eight feet out of water. Working party stores. Crew quartered in town. Hospital facilities ample. From first indication of trouble until ship struck less than one hour."
The scout cruiser Salem was ordered to San Domingo yesterday to replace the wrecked vessel, which was Admiral Pond's flagship. The transport Dixie, which has been ordered to proceed to the scene to pick up the Memphis' crew, will touch at Key West to-day to land Luis Cabrera of the Mexican commission, and Special Agent Rodgers, who are coming from Mexico City, before heading for San Domingo.

Early reports from Admiral Pond were taken by navy officials to indicate that the storm was of such force that it created a series of tidal waves which drove the Memphis across a long stretch of shallow water to her present resting place at the foot of the rocky bluff upon which San Domingo stands. Wrecking companies will be asked to study the vessel's plight and determine whether she may be saved.

No Choice in the Matter.
A popular archdeacon while out one day with his dog and gun met a parishioner.
"I hope," said the archdeacon, "you attend church regularly and read your Bible."
"I do read my Bible," replied the parishioner; and added, in a severe tone, "but I find nowhere that the apostles went out shooting."
"No," said the archdeacon, "the shooting was very bad in Palestine, so they went fishing instead."—Tit-Bits.

At the close of a perfectly busy day in the naturalization court at the capital, Clerk F. S. Platt of Rutland and his assistants came to Barre last night and considered the cases of eighteen candidates for citizenship. The session was held in the court room at city hall.

Following are the list of candidates applying for second papers: Attilio Perantoni, Italy; James Coutts, Scotland; George Greig, Scotland; Arthur Muir, Scotland; Peter M. Park, Jr., Scotland; Reinzier Paette, Italy; Francesco Vallini, Italy; Oristo Orticari, Italy; Julian Revelli, Spain; Fortunato Antonelli, Italy; Percy George Clark, Scotland; Clement Pinardi, Italy; Dimnis Baldini, Switzerland; George Karkanides, Greece; Alexander McRae, Scotland. With the exception of Mr. McRae, who resides in Topham, all of the applicants live in Barre.

First papers were granted the following residents of Barre: Nicolo Paolini, Italy; Domenico Salvador, Italy; Martino Bertolini, Italy.

Artisans and carpenters are in charge of the Merlo bowling academy on North Main street and before their work is completed, the lanes and other interior fixtures will have been thoroughly overhauled. It is expected that two weeks will elapse before the alleys are ready for use. Luitpol Nuissel has taken the contract to decorate the interior woodwork, and the color scheme and design employed will conform to the artistic painting that was done in the billiard parlor on the ground floor two years ago.

Ayers street was aroused from its midday slumber this noon when the auto fire truck swung into the thoroughfare and stopped at No. 90, the residence of E. D. McAllister. It wasn't much of a fire, but the strident treble of the motor cut out called a lot of people away from the dinner table to follow the car. The firemen found a rather brisk chimney fire in progress at the McAllister house, but the possibility of any considerable loss was precluded by the use of hand chemical pumps. Smoke was occupying much of the space in some of the second story rooms of the house when the station was notified at five minutes of noon.

For four hours, beginning at 4 o'clock, granitecutters swarmed the union headquarters in the Scampini block Wednesday afternoon and evening for the adjourned meeting of the Barre local. During that period the ballot box was open for those who desired to vote for delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention next fall. Among candidates popular with Barre granitecutters are Henry Alexander, president of the local branch, and Alex. Russell of Quincy, although there are many other candidates. Members of the union also voted for or against the Quincy motion to defer the proposed revision of the constitution and for or against the proposition of the Mount Airy branch to revise the constitution.
